Track 1

William

William Potter (10 1/2)

Hi. I'm William. My surname is Potter. I'm Scottish. My nickname is Red because of my red hair. My parents often call me Billy. I don't like that - it's so babyish! I'm ten and a half. I love playing football and I'm the best goalkeeper in school. I'm interested in drawing and painting. I hate History because there are so many dates to remember!

Susan

Susan Smith (11)

Hi! I'm Sue. My real name is Susan. My surname is Smith. I'm English. I'm eleven years old and I'm in year seven. I love reading and I'm interested in foreign countries. I'm good at foreign languages. I don't like Maths because it's very difficult.

Elizabeth

Elizabeth Hopkins (11)

Hello! I'm Elizabeth Hopkins. I'm English. My friends call me Bess. My mother also calls me Bess, but when she is angry she calls me Elizabeth. I'm eleven and I love playing volleyball. I think it's fun. I also play the piano. I'm interested in number problems. I hate drawing and I'm bad at Art.

Nicholas

Nicholas Taylor (11 1/2)

Hello! My name is Nicholas Taylor, but everybody calls me Nick. I'm English. I'm eleven and a half and I'm in year seven. I love playing computer games. I'm also interested in studying maps and I like finding new rivers and mountains. I hate doing tests. They are so boring.

Can you guess? Circle the right answer.

- | | |
|---|-------------------|
| 1. What is William's favourite subject? | Music/Art |
| 2. What is Sue's favourite subject? | English/French |
| 3. What is Elizabeth's favourite subject? | Geography/Maths |
| 4. What is Nick's favourite subject? | History/Geography |

1. Is William famous at his school?
2. What is William's dream?

William and Susan are in the schoolyard. A TV reporter is there and many children are around him. The reporter wants to interview some pupils. They are excited!

William: What's the fuss about? Is it about the new uniforms?

Sue: No! It's not! Look at the man with a camera!

William: The tall one? Who is he?

Sue: He's a TV reporter. He wants to interview some pupils.

William: Oh, cool! Can I talk to him? I want to be on TV. I want to be famous.

Sue: But you're already famous. You're the best goalkeeper in school.

William: Yes, I am. I'm famous at this school. But I'm not famous in Britain, in Europe, in America ...

Sue: Oh, you want to be world famous!

William: Of course!

Sue: Oh, come on. Stop boasting!

2 Answer the questions.

1. Are the pupils happy?
2. Is the fuss about the new uniforms?

William's school

Track 5

1 Read and answer.

Does William like his school? Why? Why not?

25 Baker Street
Kingston KT 27JX
ENGLAND
19th September

Dear Marko,

Thanks for your letter. Your school is so interesting! Do you want to know about my school?

I go to Kingston Secondary school. In England, we start secondary school when we're 11. It's quite a big school and it's in the south of England, in London. It's a mixed school, for both boys and girls. You know, here in England, there are high schools only for boys and only for girls, but I don't think that's much fun. My cousin Claire studies at an all-girls school. She also goes to school on Saturday mornings. Poor her! She must travel to school by bus. Her house is a mile away from school. She's not very happy there, but she likes her school uniform.

We wear uniforms, too. My mother says that our uniforms are nice, but I don't think so! I prefer jeans and a T-shirt. Does your school have uniforms?

Our classes start at half past eight and the lunch break is at one o'clock. It lasts for an hour. Afternoon classes end at half past three. After school, I go home by bus. Susan is lucky. Her house is near school so she walks home.

I must go now because I must do my homework.

Best wishes,
William

Look! 1 mile = 1,760 yards = 1,601 metres

2 Read the letter again and answer the questions.

1. Where is William's school?
2. Does William like mixed schools?
3. Does Claire like her school?
4. What does William want to wear for school?
5. Do William and Susan go home together?

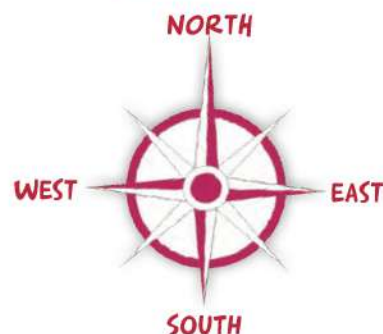

3 Complete the table with a tick (✓) or a cross (×).

	goes to a mixed school	wears a uniform	goes to school on Saturdays	lives far from school
William
Claire
Susan

Useful language

Where is your town?
It's in the north of Scotland.

both /bəʊθ/ – оба, обоје
quite /kwart/ – прилично secondary school /'sekənd(ə)ri sku:l/ – средња школа secondary school = high school

Remember!

all-girls school
a school only for girls

Track 6

4 Listen and check.

5 Can you complete the sentences using William's letter?

- I _____ to Kingston school. ■ _____ you _____ to know about my school?
 ■ _____ your school _____ uniforms? ■ I _____ think so. ■ It _____ for an hour.

Grammar clipboard

The present simple tense

positive	interrogative	negative
have I/you/we/they HAVE... He/she/it HAS...	(What) DO (Why) DOES	I/you/we/they DON'T HAVE... He/she/it DOESN'T HAVE...
like I/we/you/they LIKE... He/she/it LIKES...	(How) DO (When) DOES	I/we/you/they DO NOT LIKE... He/she/it DOES NOT LIKE...

You use the present simple for habits or things that are true:
 always, sometimes, usually, often, never, every day.... → I always walk to school.

Short forms:

do not = don't does not = doesn't

Do we have

Today is not William's favourite day because he has two Maths lessons in the morning.

William: What time is Maths today?

Sue: It starts at eleven and ends at one o'clock.

William: How many Maths lessons a week do we have?

Sue: Let me see the timetable - one lesson every day and two on Thursday. We have Maths six times a week.

William: SIX times a week! That's TWENTY-FOUR times a month! That's too much.

Sue: I don't think so. Maths is fun.

William: You say it's fun. I say it's boring.

Sue: You mean it's difficult. I know you're bad at Maths.

William: Claire says it's difficult, not me. I just don't like numbers.

Sue: But numbers are important!

William: Do you want to know what is important?

Sue: What?

William: Football!

Sue: Oh, you boys!

Culture
CREW

Do you like school uniforms? In England, a lot of children like uniforms. Many pupils wear modern uniforms, for example, a blue or grey jumper and jeans. Life is easy with uniforms – in the morning you don't think 'What can I wear today?' or 'My clothes aren't cool. Other children will laugh at me!'

In some private schools, pupils have very traditional uniforms. I'm happy I don't wear their uniforms. Look how funny they are!

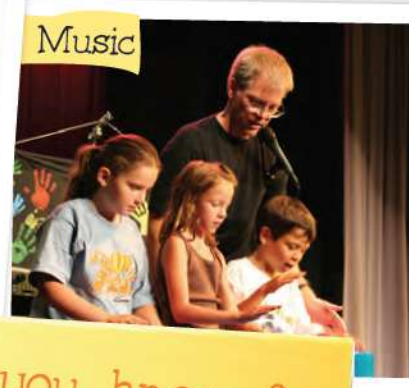

In British schools, children leave primary school when they are 11. Then they go to secondary school. We have three long holidays – at Christmas, Easter and in the summer. We go to school all day from 9 o'clock until 3 or 4. In the morning, we have 'assembly' – all the pupils in the school are together and we sing songs and listen to the headteacher. We have lots of boring subjects, but also some good ones, like Computing, DT, French and German. We sometimes have after-school activities, like sport, music, computers, photography, and country dancing.

Track 9

William is dreaming in the classroom. What is he thinking about? He is dreaming about football, of course.

Hooray! It's Thursday, my favourite day! We have PE today! What a lovely day for it!

When the weather is nice, we often go to the playground. The boys usually play football and some of the girls play with us. They are quite good! Other girls play volleyball or badminton, but we never play with them. We sometimes go rowing, too.

When it rains, we are never outside. We always go to the gym and we play squash, climb ropes and do gymnastics there. We often go swimming, too. There is a big swimming pool at our school.

1 Read the text and look at the pictures.

Tick (✓) the activities William mentions.

2 Are these sentences true (T) or false (F)?

- | | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1. William's favourite day is Tuesday. | T | F |
| 2. The weather is bad today. | T | F |
| 3. The girls don't play football with the boys. | T | F |

1 Read and answer.

Read Susan's email to her Serbian penfriend about her holidays. Does she do the same things as you when she is on holiday?

From: Susan Smith

To: vera.tasic11@sezampro.rs

Dear Vera

Hooray, free at last! We have a short holiday from Monday - our half-term holiday. It's much shorter than the Christmas holiday, but I don't care. I always play a lot and visit my relatives. Oh, and I help my Mum with the housework. My Mum and I live in a wonderful flat in London. It's the biggest in our street.

My Dad lives in Liverpool and he comes to visit twice a month. I sometimes spend my holidays with my Dad in Liverpool. It's a big city, but much smaller than London. I like going there. My Dad takes me to the sea port and to the River Mersey. We visit different museums and he takes me to football matches, too. Liverpool has two football clubs and they are very famous. We often go to see horse races. I love horses. They're beautiful animals.

Bye for now. Write back ASAP, PLEASE!

Your penfriend, Susan.

UNIT 5B English breakfast

Listen and answer.

1. Why doesn't Sue want bacon and eggs?
2. Why are they going to Grandma's?
3. What must Sue do before going to Grandma's?

On Sundays Susan's mum always prepares a real English breakfast.

Mum: Hurry up, Sue!
It's quarter past ten.
Breakfast is ready!

Sue: Coming!..... Here I am!

Mum: Quickly! Sit down! Your bacon and eggs are getting cold.

Sue: I can't eat bacon and eggs. Can I just have some cereal?

Mum: No, you can't! Is this some silly diet?

Sue: No, Mum. Our teacher says that bacon isn't healthy.
Anyway, bacon's the most disgusting thing in the world.

Mum: Oh, I see! Bacon isn't healthy because YOU don't like it, but hamburgers are good for you because you like them!

Sue: Oh, good! Are we going to have burgers for lunch?

Mum: No! We're going to have lunch at Grandma's today! Auntie Ann, Uncle Pete, Sarah and Jim will be there, too.

Sue: Great! Granny makes the most wonderful roast beef. Will Uncle Dave be there, too? It's always more interesting when he is.

Mum: Maybe. Oh, and tidy your room before we go. Bacon's not the most disgusting thing in the world – your room is!

2 About you

Buckingham Palace

The Queen has a lot of homes in Britain, but the most famous is Buckingham Palace. There are 600 rooms, 72 bathrooms and 300 clocks in the Palace. It also has a cinema, a swimming pool, a post office, and a police station. 400 people work at the Palace.

Breakfast

The traditional English breakfast is fried eggs, fried bacon, fried sausages, fried mushrooms, fried tomatoes, fried bread, baked beans and a cup of tea. A lot of people eat cereal with milk or toast and jam for breakfast because it is healthier.

Do you know...?

- ✓ 80% of British people live in houses, not flats.
- ✓ A lot of British people think ghosts are real.
- ✓ The English drink tea with milk and sugar.

Typical houses

Most British people have houses with one or two bathrooms, two or three bedrooms and a small garden.

The British Prime Minister lives at 10, Downing Street in London. The PM doesn't have keys to his house because there is always someone inside to open the door for him. There are two black front doors. When they paint one front door, they put the other door on. His house has a secret tunnel to Buckingham Palace.

What's the matter, Brian?!

Track 33

My brother Brian wasn't at school last week because he was ill. On Monday, he had a headache and on Tuesday he had a sore throat. Then on Wednesday he had a high temperature and he was very tired and sleepy. On Thursday, he had a bad cough, and on Friday he couldn't stop sneezing! It was flu. He was in bed for a week and he was all alone. He was so bored - he didn't have any new computer games to play and he didn't have any new books to read. There was nothing on TV and he didn't have any friends to play with.

Now he's better and he can go to school again. In fact, for the first time in his life, he's even excited about going to school! There's only one problem - today, I've got toothache, Dad's got stomachache and Mum's knees hurt, and we're all at home in bed!

Superstitions

In England we had a funny belief many years ago. When children ride a bear, they won't be ill.

There are many funny beliefs like this – they are called superstitions. In England, when you see a black cat, it is good luck. On the first day of every month, people say 'White rabbits, white rabbits, white rabbits' for good luck. When you put new shoes on a table, it is bad luck. It is also bad luck when you walk under a ladder. And never break a mirror, it is 7 years' bad luck!

Health

Indian people think you get a cold when you don't eat properly. When we have a cold, we eat ginger and honey three times a day. We also eat boiled vegetables, vegetable soup, and fruit. We drink tea and hot drinks, but we don't have any cold drinks, ice cream, sweets, fried food, cheese or yoghurt when we have a cold. When we have a headache, we drink hot milk. For stomachaches, we drink lemon juice three times a day and eat boiled vegetables.

UNIT 8A School dinners – yuck!

1 Read. Why is Bess in trouble? Track 38

Nick, Red, Sue and I saved £18.50 of our pocket money and on Friday we decided to get a take-away after school because we were hungry. We didn't like the lunch in the school canteen – boiled cabbage, carrots and fish. Yuck! Maybe it's healthy, but it's disgusting!

There are three take-away places near our school. The fish-and-chip shop is just round the corner, the Indian restaurant is opposite the school, and there's a fast food restaurant to the left of the school – it's my favourite and the cheapest.

The boys had chips, Sue had a sandwich and I ordered a hamburger. The man packed the food nicely in a bag and we walked quickly to the park. We had our food there and enjoyed it very much. We talked and laughed loudly. Everyone looked at us. After that, William hurried to catch his bus and Sue, Nick and I walked slowly home. But then a car stopped behind us and somebody shouted loudly, 'Is that where your pocket money goes, Elizabeth?' I turned around. It was Mum. She was mad! Now I'm grounded for the weekend and... no pocket money for a month!

Useful language

'Excuse me! Could you tell me where the school is?'

'It's just round the corner. It's to the left of the bookshop.'

2 Answer the questions.

1. Why were the children hungry?
2. How many restaurants are there near Elizabeth's school?
3. What did the children eat?
4. Why did everyone look at the children in the park?

School Dinners

A few years ago school dinners were disgusting and no-one wanted to eat them. Now they are better. They stopped making burgers, pizza and chips. Now we have a lot of fruit, vegetables, soup, salads and yoghurt. In Scotland, you get prizes for eating healthy food. When you eat 100 healthy lunches, you get an iPod!

School Dinners

British food

Our parents had roast beef, roast potatoes, Yorkshire puddings, and boiled vegetables for Sunday lunch – it was a tradition. British people also loved fish and chips, but now British people say curry (Indian food) and Chinese food is their favourite. Indian food is very hot – it has lots of chilli peppers in it.

Roast beef

Fish and chips

Indian spices

In Britain, there are restaurants from many countries – Italian, Indian, Chinese, French, Russian, Serbian, Vietnamese, Thai, Japanese, etc. Manchester is famous for the 'Curry Mile' – one road with over 70 Indian restaurants! Of course, there are a lot of fast-food restaurants, too.

Do you know...?

- ✓ 20% of British children never eat fruit.
- ✓ Pizza is British children's favourite food.
- ✓ In English schools, teachers give young students milk every day.
- ✓ The British only eat pancakes once a year.

Can you eat quickly?

UNIT 9A Shopping

Track 43

Sue and I went window shopping at the shopping centre near my house last week. Mum told me to look for a dress to wear for Easter. We saw some terrific clothes – tracksuits, trainers, trendy jeans and colourful T-shirts, but we didn't see any nice dresses. I don't like dresses much, but I must wear them sometimes.

So, on Thursday evening, Mum took me to a department store in Oxford Street. We caught the Tube because it's faster than going by car. The store is huge. The women's department is on the ground floor, the men's is on the first floor, and the children's department is on the second floor.

There were girls' dresses in all sizes and colours. First, I chose a lovely long yellow dress with short sleeves, but they didn't have one in my size. Then, I saw another yellow dress, but it was too expensive. In the end, my Mum found a wonderful yellow and blue dress. It was perfect for me and we bought it. Mum also got a pair of white trainers for Brian.

There was a football match at school on Saturday morning. It was very exciting. A boys' team played against a girls' team. Brian and I went there early. We each wore our team's colours. The boys wore dark blue caps and the girls wore light green caps and scarves. William had special trainers – they were dark blue with a silver star.

Nick: Wow! Look at Red's trainers!

Brian: They're exactly like mine!

Nick: No way! Yours don't have a star! Anyway, I heard his are from America.

Elizabeth: Where did you get your trainers from? They're so cool.

William: My Gran sent them to me from Scotland, but they're Japanese.

Sue: Lucky you! Did you get anything else?

William: Yes. Two pairs of socks, a DVD and a book.

The wise old owl

A wise old owl lived in an oak,
The more he heard, the less he spoke,
The less he spoke, the more he heard,
Why can't we be like that wise old bird?!

Culture CREW

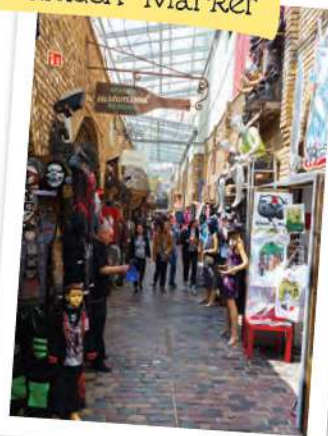

There are many different shops in Britain. The most famous is 'Harrods' in London. It is the biggest department store in the country. I went there last week. It was very expensive and I didn't buy anything. 'Harrods' makes things for the Queen – she has enough money to shop there!

Harrods, London

Camden Market

Borough Market

Every town in Britain has a market, but London has lots of them. On the streets of London, there are food markets, flower markets, clothes markets, and furniture markets. The oldest fruit and vegetable market is Borough Market.

The most popular markets are Camden Market and the huge Portobello Road Market. You can buy everything there.

Libraries

Libraries are popular in Britain. You can go there and read books, but you must be quiet. British children usually read for about six hours a week (that's 13 days a year). Some British people don't like reading – my cousin doesn't read books, she only reads fashion magazines! There are many famous British writers: William Shakespeare,

Charles Dickens, CS Lewis, JK Rowling, Roald Dahl and David Walliams.

A British library

Do you know...?

- ✓ 80% of British ten-year-olds love shopping.
- ✓ Macy's is a department store in New York – it has ten floors and sells over half a million things.
- ✓ Children in Brazil, Thailand and South Africa can buy a laptop for 66 euros!

Track 48

The grand old Duke of York

The Grand Old Duke of York.
He had ten thousand men.
He marched them up to the top of the hill.
And he marched them down again.

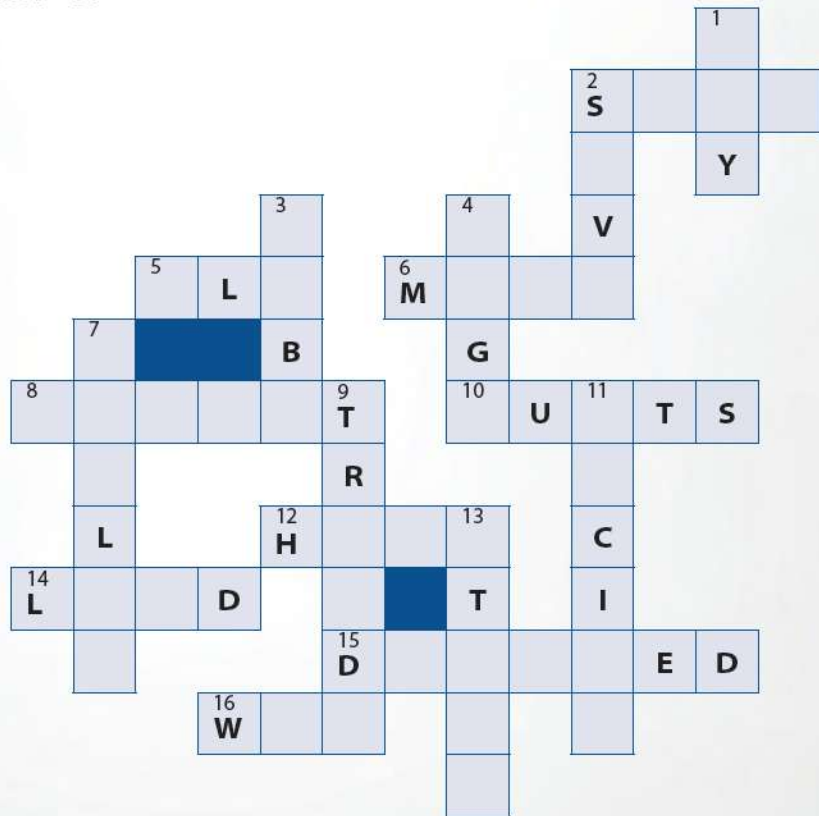

And when they were up, they were up,
And when they were down, they were down,
And when they were only half way up,
They were neither up nor down.

UNIT 10A Nick's project

1 Reading

Last week Nick did a project for his History class on Christopher Columbus. How much do you know about him? Complete the text with the information in the box.

money chickens west 90 dangerous 36 Italy

Christopher Columbus

A Christopher Columbus was born in Italy in 1451 and he was an explorer. At that time, people in Europe traded with Asia, but the journey over land was very long and dangerous, so they wanted to go there by sea. The Portuguese tried to sail south, but it was very far. Columbus wanted to sail west. He thought he could reach China in a few days.

B He needed money for the journey, but rich people didn't want to help. They only laughed at him. In the end, the King and Queen of Spain gave Columbus money, and they also promised a reward to the first man to see land. Columbus promised them new lands, spices and gold.

C On 3rd August 1492 Columbus and about 90 sailors started their journey in three wooden ships. The biggest ship was the Santa Maria. They took salted fish, cheese, wine, water, and even some live pigs and chickens with them.

D The journey lasted longer than Columbus expected. There was no land, only water. The men were frightened, but after 36 days, one sailor saw an island. Columbus lied and said, "I saw the island a few hours ago." This was because he wanted the King's reward.

Track 49

- 2 Listen and check. 3 Nick chose some pictures for his project. Match the pictures to a paragraph (A-D).

Track 50

4 Is this true? Listen and check your answers.

- | | | |
|--|-----|----|
| 1. The journey to Asia over land was not safe. | YES | NO |
| 2. The King and Queen of Spain promised Columbus a reward. | YES | NO |
| 3. Fifty sailors went on the voyage with Columbus. | YES | NO |
| 4. The sailors enjoyed the journey. | YES | NO |
| 5. Columbus was the first man to see land. | YES | NO |

Columbus did not 'discover' America. A Viking, Lief Ericsson, found it 500 years earlier.

Track 53

31st December

Dear Diary,

Well, it will be New Year's Day tomorrow and it's time to make some decisions about next year. So here goes!

1. I won't leave my homework until the last minute.
2. I will help mum more with the housework.
3. I will walk to school more often.
4. I will have an exciting summer holiday.

The first half of the year is almost over and here's the list of decisions and promises Nick made last December. How successful is he being? Well, his Mum says he still doesn't do his homework on time, but she is happier now because he vacuums the living room once a week and takes the rubbish out every day. Dad still drives him to school. He prefers going by car to walking. In fact, he hates going on foot! They'll soon finish school for the summer and Nick is going on holiday to Greece. His Mum promises it will be exciting. They're going to fly there and his Mum says they'll stay in a hotel by the beach. It'll be great!

1 How successful is Nick being?

Nick's mum and dad are looking at ads for their summer holiday. They are looking for a hotel in Greece.

Mum: Look at this ad. The Grand Hotel. It's got a huge swimming pool. That will be good for the kids.

Dad: Yes, but it's quite expensive and it's a long way to the beach. Guests must go by car or bus. I like walking to the beach.

Mum: You're right. And look! I can't believe it! You can't take dogs there. Who will look after Fluffy?

Dad: This hotel is better. The Beach Hotel. We can walk to the beach and it's cheaper.

Mum: And we can take Fluffy. Nick will be happy. He can play tennis there as well.

Dad: Also, it doesn't have a disco. That means I will sleep well. I hate loud music.

Mum: Do you want to go for one week or two?

Dad: I think we'll go for two weeks. There's a lot to see in Greece.

Mum: And the weather will be nicer than here in Britain. It will be sunny and hot.

Dad: I hope so! It always rains here. Do you remember last summer?

Mum: I'll never forget it!

Transport

The transport in Britain is the same as in a lot of countries. Most people travel by car. In towns, there are buses and trains. Buses that travel between two towns are called 'coaches'. Trains in Britain are very fast but very expensive.

London is famous for its red double-decker buses and it also has an underground railway called the Tube. Taxis in London are black.

Answer, ex. 1: I'll be sixteen. She'll be thirty-seven.

A car ferry

I've never been on a plane, but there are 470 airports in England! London has five airports, and the biggest is Heathrow. Britain is an island, so boat travel is popular. You can travel to Ireland, France, and Spain by ferry. You can also travel between England and France by train through the Channel Tunnel.

The Channel Tunnel

The British weather

Everyone has heard about the British weather! The winters are cold, but not too cold - it is usually over 0°C. In summer, the British are happy when it is hotter than 20°C. They even have summer barbecues in the rain!

UNIT 12A Let's have a party!

Track 57

The end of school is near. We always have a party at school on the last Saturday in June. The weather in June is usually nice, so we have a party in the school yard. This year we want our party to be the best ever! Yesterday we had a class meeting. Miss Blake asked us to write down our ideas for the party. She told us to think about an exhibition, music, games, competitions, a raffle, and food and drinks for the party. Would you like to see our ideas?

How about a dancing competition?! We had one last year.
Sue

A KARAOKE COMPETITION WOULD BE GREAT.
ELIZABETH

I could make ham and cheese sandwiches? I'll make 50 of them.
Sarah

Shall I collect money for fizzy drinks?
Sam

How about playing Charades?! It's a great game for parties!
Joe

WE CAN HAVE AN EXHIBITION OF OUR BEST PAINTINGS.
William

My dad could bring some fantastic lights.
Tom

I'll bring some CDs. The latest tracks!
Jack

I wouldn't like to have a raffle! It's boring!
Jenny.

Why don't we ask 'The Whizzkids' to play for us?! Live music is the best!
Kate

There were many different ideas but we all agreed on one thing – the music.

We all want to have a live band. We have a terrific school band called 'The Whizzkids'. When they are on stage, they always wear black. Moira is the singer, but she also plays the guitar. Her boyfriend Robert plays the drums and his brother plays the keyboard. I love listening to their music.

1 Read, listen and answer.

Special Days

Christmas and Easter are family times in England. On Christmas Day (25th December), all the family opens presents around the Christmas tree. Then we eat a big meal together. The tradition is to eat roast turkey. At Easter, we give chocolate eggs to each other and the Easter bunny comes to visit.

The British love parties and the chance to celebrate. Of course, we have birthday parties. I'll have a fancy-dress party for my next birthday – everyone will wear costumes.

British children also celebrate Halloween on 31st October. We make lamps from pumpkins and dress up as ghosts and witches.

Do you know...?

- ✓ The British spend over 900,000,000 euros on cards, flowers, chocolates and other presents for Valentine's Day.
- ✓ Father Christmas visits children on 24th December (Christmas Eve).
- ✓ The British don't celebrate 'Women's Day' on 8th March.

I'm thinking of you!

Love from?

There are other special days in Britain. February 14th is Valentine's Day – you give presents and cards to the person you love.

People think it is bad luck to write your name in the card, so people just write 'Love from?' We also celebrate 'Mother's Day', usually in March. We give presents to our mums and look after them very well!
